Forecast For Wales
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Thursday 21 Jan 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Dry night with frost, fog and icy patches likely.

This Evening and Tonight:
Through the evening and overnight showers become less frequent and more confined to the north and west coast. Clear spells for most with an overnight frost and some ice likely to develop, along with a few fog patches. Minimum temperature -2 deg C (28 deg F).

Friday:
A frosty morning with icy stretches. Sunny spells throughout the day and remaining largely dry for most but with some scattered showers near the coasts. Feeling cold with lighter winds. Maximum temperature 7 deg C (45 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Sunny spells with scattered showers on Saturday. Cloudier on Sunday with a risk of rain and snow. Sunny spells with few showers on Monday. Feeling cold throughout.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.